In Tanzania, VET Toolbox is tapping into job potential in the solar energy sector through a tailored skills program that accompanies investments and directly responds to concrete employment needs.

Enabling youth empowerment in solar energy in Tanzania, implemented by GIZ

Objectives:

- Responding to employment opportunities in the renewable energy sector
- Initiate a VET reform in the sector & contribute to the country's renewable energy plan

Main achievements:

- Set up of a sectoral public-private dialogue (TAREA)
- New solar photovoltaic course curricula & short training program for solar artisans in installation, service & maintenance
- VET-centre capacity building, Training of Trainers (Arusha Technical College)
- Matching services - from 200 trained young people, 149 (75%) are (self-) employed

From the business sector's point of view...
